THE ABCs of Certified Payrolls

By: Nicole Kamidoi
DTP Project Accountant

If your subcontract is subject to the Davis-Bacon Act you are required to submit a certified payroll on a weekly basis to the attention of: Dulles Transit Partners, Accounting Department. Each certified payroll must be accompanied by a signed Statement of Compliance by an authorized representative of your company. Your weekly submittal should begin with the first week your company works and continue for every week afterward. “FINAL” must be clearly marked on your last certified payroll submitted. Also, it is a good idea to number the payroll reports beginning with

Project Update

Work is underway along the entire 11.7-mile alignment of Phase 1 of the Dulles Corridor Metrorail Project. Though inclement weather has slowed some of our work, the Project remains on schedule and we are excited about what lies ahead in 2010. A successful 2009 saw the approval of the Project's funding, notice to proceed, and an aggressive start to construction. We expect to finish the infrastructure for new utilities along Routes 7 and 123 next year, and drivers should expect major lane shifts along Route 7 that will support the construction of two of the five new Metro stations. You may have already seen some of this progress while shopping in the area. Also, the tunnel work at Route 123 and International Drive is progressing according to schedule. For more information on the Project, please visit our website at www.dullesmetro.com or call 703-572-0500.

#1. Your subcontract number should be noted on each certified payroll report.

The Davis Bacon Wage Decision for which your certified payroll is audited against is included in Appendix B-6 of the DTP subcontract agreement. Appendix B-6 should flow down to all subcontractors of any tier. This wage decision will remain in effect for the entire term of your contract.

Please use the following as a guide when preparing your certified payroll:

Laborers and mechanics (duties that are manual or physical in nature) are the two groups of workers that must be paid no less than the Davis-Bacon minimum wage rates, and paid those wages no less than once a week.

Truck drivers are also covered by Davis-Bacon.

- With respect to owner-operators of trucks who own and drive their own trucks, certified payrolls including the names of such owner-operators do not need to show the hours worked or rates paid, only the notation “owner-operator.” Proof of an owner-operator status can be verified by a drivers license, registration, and insurance (all of which should be in the owner-operators name). Owner-operators that lease their trucks should be able to provide a lease in their name.

Apprentices and trainees are the only workers who can be paid less than the wage rate on the wage decision for their work classification are apprentices and trainees registered in an approved apprenticeship or training program. Apprentices and trainees must be paid wage rates in accordance with the wage schedule in the approved program.

- The first payroll on which any apprentice/trainee appears must be accompanied by a copy of that employee’s registration documents.

“NO WORK” payrolls must be submitted whenever there is a temporary break in your work.

Fringe benefits can include health insurance premiums, retirement contributions, life insurance, vacation, paid holidays and other paid leave.

- If a wage decision includes a fringe benefit and you do not participate in approved fringe benefit programs, add the fringe benefit rate to the basic hourly rate of pay.
- Fringe benefits must be paid for all hours worked - both straight time and overtime hours.
- You must make payments or incur cost in the amount specified by your wage decision with respect to each individual. (It is not appropriate to take credit based on the average premium paid or average contribution made per employee.)

Additional information can be found online:

The Wage and Hour Division (WHD) Form 347 is an appropriate form to use for submitting certified payrolls. Instructions on completing this form can be found online at the Department of Labor website.

- Note: You are not required to use Form 347. You are welcome to use any other type of form, such as computerized formats, as long as it contains all of the information that is required on the WH-347.

The Davis-Bacon and Related Acts (DBRA)

Published by: United States Department of Labor
<http://www.dol.gov/compliance/laws/comp-dbra.htm>

OVERVIEW

The Davis-Bacon and Related Acts (DBRA) requires all contractors and subcontractors performing work on federal or District of Columbia construction contracts or federally assisted contracts in excess of $2,000 to pay their laborers and mechanics not less than the prevailing wage rates and fringe benefits for corresponding classes of laborers and mechanics employed on similar projects in the area. The prevailing wage rates and fringe benefits are determined by the Secretary of Labor for inclusion in covered contracts.

In addition to the Davis-Bacon Act itself, Congress added Davis-Bacon prevailing wage provisions to approximately 60 laws—"related Acts"—under which federal agencies assist construction projects through grants, loans, loan guarantees, and insurance. (Examples of the related Acts are the Federal-Aid Highway Acts, the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, and the Federal Water Pollution Control Act.) Generally, the application of prevailing wage requirements to projects receiving federal assistance under any particular "related" Act depends on the provisions of that law.

The U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) has oversight responsibilities to assure coordination of administration and consistency of enforcement of the labor standards provisions of the Davis-Bacon and Related Acts. Under this authority, the DOL has issued regulations establishing standards and procedures for the administration and enforcement of the Davis-Bacon labor standards provisions. Federal contracting agencies have day-to-day responsibility for administration and enforcement of the Davis-Bacon labor standards provisions in covered contracts for which they are responsible or to which they provide federal assistance under laws they administer.

Within DOL, the Employment Standards Administration's Wage and Hour Division (WHD) is responsible for administration and enforcement of the DBRA.

Frequently Asked Questions

- Q: How can I do business on the Dulles Corridor Metrorail Project (DCMP)?
A: Visit our website at www.dullestransitpartners.com and review the bid opportunities section. This list is updated every two weeks with upcoming packages and deadlines.
- Q: I'm a DBE firm and I am interested in working on the Dulles Corridor Metrorail Project. What do I do?
A: All of the major subcontracts and purchase orders have DBE goals attached to them. Check the DTP website often for bid opportunities and stay updated with our weekly Procurement Alert which will list important dates and DBE goals for all upcoming packages. (If you do not receive the Procurement Alert, email dbc.program@DullesTransitPartners.com to be added to the distribution list.) For DBEs looking to team with qualified primes, the bidders list is posted on the website for all major packages.
- Q: I am a minority business and LDBE and LSDBE certified. Does that count?
A: To be considered a DBE-Disadvantaged Business Enterprise as it applies to the DCMP, you must be certified as a DBE in the state of Virginia by either Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority (MWAA) or the Virginia Department of Minority Business Enterprise (DMBE). Email us to find out more information.
