Announcing the Hispanic Committee of Virginia's 22nd Job Fair

The Hispanic Committee of Virginia—a nonpartisan nonprofit organization established in 1967 to enable Hispanic immigrants in Northern Virginia to more fully participate in, and thereby, contribute to American society—is pleased to invite you to our 22nd Job Fair on Friday, October 5, 2007.

The Hispanic Committee of Virginia's 22nd Job Fair offers allows you to contribute to the community at-large by providing employment opportunities to one of Northern Virginia's most underserved populations. This is an ideal occasion to increase your company's visibility in the Hispanic community and recruit hard-working, dedicated and qualified employees.

The Hispanic Committee of Virginia's Job Fairs are successful, well-attended events—our most recent Job Fair attracted over 500 potential employees. The Job Fair will be advertised in major Spanish-language print and broadcast media in the DC metropolitan area including Washington Hispanic, Telemundo, Washington Voz, Viva 900, El Tiempo Latino and El Comercio de Manassas in the weeks leading up to the event. We look forward to an overwhelming attendance.

The Job Fair will be held from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Fairfax County South County Center, located at 8350 Richmond Highway in Alexandria, Virginia. Exhibition tables at the event will cost $650. For registration and advertising purposes, we greatly appreciate your prompt response.

Should you have any questions or require additional information, please do not hesitate to contact Claudia Guijo-Glascock, Employment Coordinator, at 703-671-5666 ext. 19 or EmploymentCoord@hcva.org.
